

There are different ways you can get help with your investments. You should carefully consider which types of accounts and services are right for you. This document provides a summary of the types of services we provide and how you will pay for them. Please feel free to reach out to us for additional information. Questions you might consider asking us are noted (→) throughout this Summary.

Introduction

Atlas Capital Advisors is an investment adviser that has provided investment management services to retail investors since 2003. We do not provide services as a broker-dealer. There are differences between investment advisers and broker-dealers, and it is important for you to understand them as you decide what kind of account is right for you. You can learn more about the differences between investment advisers and broker-dealers at the websites provided by the SEC like investor.com or investor.gov/CRS.

What Investment Services and Advice Can You Provide Me?

Investment Management Services: If you request investment management services, we will:

- Tailor an investment approach for you that reflects your age, income, family circumstances, financial condition, retirement goals, investment goals, and your risk tolerance.
- Conduct periodic reviews of your goals and asset allocation in response to changes in the above factors.
- Provide ongoing monitoring of your investment accounts.
- Monitor market, economic, and geo-political trends.
- Review relevant financial industry research on a routine basis.
- Buy and sell securities for your accounts that are consistent with your financial goals and risk tolerance.
- We will do so on a “discretionary” basis that authorizes us to trade without your approval of each trade. We may make an exception and advise you on a “non-discretionary” basis for designated assets whereby we would make investment recommendations to you and allow you to make the decisions as to which securities to buy or sell.

We have a minimum relationship requirement of $1million and a minimum annual management fee of $5,000.

Financial Planning Services: If you request financial planning services and depending upon your needs, we will evaluate your financial condition and help you set financial goals and plan for retirement. Analyses may include education funding, insurance needs, charitable giving, estate and tax planning and employer stock options. These may be stand-alone services or included with our management services.

Additional detail about our services is provided in our Form ADV Part 2A at Item 4.

- How will you choose investments to recommend to me?
- What is your relevant experience, including your licenses, education and other qualifications?
- What do your professional qualifications mean?

What Fees Will I Pay?

These are the principal types of fees you will pay to us in connection with our services:

- Asset-Based Fees: Investment management fees charged as a percentage of the value of the assets under our management. These are paid quarterly.
- Performance Fees: In lieu of a set asset-based fee, we accept clients that prefer to pay us a performance fee based on investment returns or to pay a combination performance fee and lower asset-based fee. A performance fee percentage of positive investment returns as opposed to a management fee charged without regard to returns.

Our fees are negotiable and may vary amongst clients.

Other fees & costs you will pay to others in relation to your investments include:

- Custodian fees. If charged, these are paid to your custodian directly, on an annual or a monthly basis.
- Maintenance fees. If charged, these are paid to your custodian directly.
- Transactional and product-level fees (commissions). If charged, these are paid to your executing broker-dealer directly, at the time of each transaction.

- Fees related to Funds. Mutual funds, exchange traded funds (ETFs), and private funds, may impose ongoing management fees, administrative fees and redemption or surrender fees. These are paid to the issuer of the fund directly, typically monthly.

The fee any investment adviser charges reduces the value of your account when it is deducted each billing period. Please make sure you understand what fees and costs you are paying. You will pay the asset-based fee each period even if no securities are bought or sold in your account. You will pay fees and costs whether you make or lose money on your investments. More detail about our fees is in our Form ADV Part 2A, Item 5.

What Are Your Legal Obligations to Me When Acting as My Investment Adviser?

We have adopted an internal Code of Ethics. When we act as your investment adviser, we must act in your best interest and not put our interests ahead of yours. Where the interests of our Firm or staff conflict with our duties to you, we must work to eliminate the conflict or tell you about it in clear terms. You should understand these conflicts because they can affect the investment advice we provide you.

How Else Does Your Firm Make Money and What Conflicts of Interest Do You Have?

Here are examples to help you understand what this means:

- We charge fees for our services and the more assets there are in your account, the more you pay to us in fees. We therefore have an incentive to encourage you to increase the assets in your account.
- We may recommend that you rollover a 401K retirement account to an IRA account managed by our Firm because this would increase the amount of assets under our management.
- We may advise you to invest in stocks, mutual funds, bonds rather than non-managed assets because the investments increase the amount of assets under our management.
- We advise you to custody your investment accounts with Charles Schwab because it provides us with essential trading, reporting, compliance, education and back-office services and investment research.
- Our employees personally invest in the same, or different securities based upon their personal financial situations and their investments may perform as well as, better or worse than our clients' investments.
- When clients pay an incentive or performance fee, we have the incentive to make investment decisions that may result in higher returns, but that do so at a higher level of risk of loss.

How Do Your Financial Professionals Make Money?

Our financial professionals are paid a salary based upon their education, professional training, work background and the level of skill and dedication they exhibit in conducting their work for the Firm. Financial professionals that are successful in bringing clients into the Firm are either compensated through our bonus program or receive a portion of the management fees paid by those clients, or a combination of both. Financial professionals who are owners of the business share in the profits of the business.
